

Registration Instructions for Third Party Agents

Third party agents act on behalf of employers to post the employer's job openings on Job Center of Wisconsin. Examples of third party agents are immigration attorneys who enter foreign labor certification job postings and employees of businesses that offer third party job posting services.

With the permission of the employer that has the job opening, third party agents may be given access to the employer's records to post jobs on the employer's behalf. These registration instructions must be followed. Refusing to do so will delay the verification and approval process for your registration.

Registrations from third party agents will be verified with the company the third party agent says he or she is representing, to ensure that the company has a relationship with the third party agent, and that the company agrees that the third party agent can have access to the company's records.

If you represent more than one company you must register to represent each company.

Registration rules you must follow:

- Usernames and passwords must not be shared! This means that you cannot use the employer's username and password, and do not share your own username and password with others working for your company, the employer you represent, or others.
- Do not create registrations for other people. This means that you should not create a registration for the employer you represent, or for anyone else in your company.
- If more than one person in your company needs access to the Job Center of Wisconsin website, each person must register.
